Britons Fail To Reach Top Of Mt. Everest

KATMANDU, Nepal (P)—Reliable reports reaching this Himalayan capital said today a British expedition failed in its final attempts to push to the top of unconquered Mt. Everest, the world's highest

The reports said the climbers, who had hoped to put the British flag atop Everest in time for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth, will start the descent from their base camp the first week in June.

There will be no further attempts this season, the sources said, but they plan another assault on the 29,000-foot mountain when the monsoon season — just beginning—is

According to the report, which reached here by native runner from the expedition's advance bases, nature played its same old trick to drive the would-be conquerors' back; bone-chilling winds, nerve-killing, blinding snow showers and an approaching monsoon which would make a return later treacherous.

The Britons had planned to use at least two two-man teams in the final lung-bursting effort to scale the 29,000-ft. mountain. The teams were camped 2,000 feet below the oxygen tanks for the final drive.

Moscow Shifts Tone, New Hate Drive Starts

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Foreign News Analyst

Moscow suddenly has changed its tone, and a new "hate America" campaign seems in the offing. The Kremlin charge of American spy activities in the Soviet Ukraine indicates the new campaign will be dictated largely by internal conditions. The post-Stalin regime of Georgi M. Malenkov evidently still has a struggle on its hands and cannot afford to extend its brief era of sweetness and light.

The mask of reasonableness appeared to have dropped away abruptly last weekend with Pravda's blast against the projected Bermuda conference of the Big Three. On top of this came the Kremlin's rejection of four-power talks on an Austrian treaty of independence. The chips were down on a test of Moscow's sweet talk.

The new spy charges put out by the Kremlin follow precisely and almost in every detail the pattern of the charges against the United States in December, 1951. when the Americans were accused of parachuting spies into Soviet Moldavia. Like the Ukraine, Molof press abuse because of outcroppings of "bourgeois national-

Stories of the capture and execution of "spies" for the United This h States apparently make a deep impression on the Soviet people, furthering the idea that they are surrounded by enemies intent upon their destruction. following World War II.
With this propaganda, Western observers gained the impression that the Communist hierarchy in the Kremlin felt itself insecure, was afraid of elements within the Soviet Army and Navy. While throwing frequent sops to the military, the Kremlin was constantly seeking ways and means for keeping the Army and Navy under strict party control.

The new Communist party statutes, dictated last October by Malenkov, make it clear that the Army is subordinate to the party.
The statutes also stress heavily that it is the duty of every Soviet citizen to spy upon his neighbor and inform the authorities of any suspicious acts.

The popular wartime hero-mar-shals, Georgi Zhukov and A. M. Vasilevsky, were brought back to prominence at the time of Stalin's death by being placed at the head of the armed forces as deputies of the Communist party politician, Marshal Nicolai Bulganin. But there has been no mention of either of them in the press since their appointments in March, even on important holidays such as May Day and V-E Day.

A new hate-America campaign would put a serious dent in the Soviet peace offensive. But at this stage of a Kremlin struggle for control of the USSR, an era of reasonableness may be a luxury Malenkov can ill-afford.

Farmers Pay More For Telephone Use Than Previous Year

WASHINGTON (#)-The Departnent of Agriculture said today that farmers paid 7 per cent more for ocal telephone service last year than in 1951.

A Bureau of Agricultural Economics annual survey made in 1952 ncluded reports from more than 21,000 farmers throughout the na-paid by farmers amounted to an estimated $4.62. This included an average local service rate of $3.06 and a long distance average of age of $4.53 a year earlier, including $2.97 for local and $1.56 for long distance service.

"You see, it is a matter of pres-tige to my mother back there, having a son in the U. S. Army,' Tyderle explains. His goal is to go to college when his five years are up. He had some experience as a wallpaper designer before coming to America. He regularly sends money home from his salary.

He, too, is eager to get in combat. Like most of the aliens, he believes a war with Russia is inevitable before his five years are up. "We just feel that a full war with Russia is coming," he says. "And we are all happy to have the chance to fight on the side of the Americans, with Ameri-

Or has the Atomic Energy Commission decided to shift emphasis away from the H-bomb because it is too expensive or doesn't work as well as anticipated?

Those lines of speculation were opened by the San Francisco Examiner today. They followed disclosure that Dr. Edward Teller, who first sketched a theoretical H-bomb and is one of the top ten in the AEC's H-bomb program, will join the University of California faculty on July 1 as professor of physics.

The fact that much of the work on the fission bomb has been centered in the AEC's super - secret Livermore Laboratory, 30 miles south of here, was revealed in the current issue of Fortune Magazine.

Head of the Livermore program has been the 44-year-old Hungarian born Dr. Teller, described by the magazine as one of the most articulate and influential advocates of intensified H-bomb development.

On the other hand, Fortune said, have been a group of scientists led by Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, former California physicist who headed World War II development of the atomic bomb at Los Alamos, N. M. This group argued that high-pressure H-bomb research stimulates the atomic weapons race and that possession of the H-bomb is no insurance against a catastrop-
